1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

1.1. Legal basis

The EU General Data Protection Regulation (“GDPR”) and the corresponding national data protection laws protect the fundamental rights and freedoms of individuals and their rights to the protection of personal data.

1.2. What is personal data?

Personal data is information about data subjects, whose identity is determined or at least can be determined. Personal data includes, for example, names, addresses, telephone numbers, e-mail addresses, user IDs, credit card numbers, social media account IDs, user names, IP addresses etc.

1.3. Which data do we collect from you, and how or for what purposes do we process your data?

We collect user data (for example, information provided during registration, ordering, subscribing to newsletters or when contacting us) and technical data (log files; for example, IP addresses, dates, times) from you, provided that this is permitted by law or required as part of contract performance or to preserve our legitimate interests, or you have provided your consent for this purpose.

2. HANDLING PERSONAL DATA FOR WEBSITES FOR PURELY INFORMATIONAL USE

2.1. Cookies used upon accessing the website

Like most websites, we also use cookies, provided that this is required from a technical standpoint for use of the website or you have provided your consent for this purpose. We use (i) functional cookies, which are required for the operation and provision of our website, (ii) analysis cookies and (iii) DoubleClick cookies, which assist us in collecting general data regarding website use and interaction in order to analyse the use of our website.

Cookies are small text files that our server sends to your browser during your visit to our websites and are stored on your device. Cookies are used to design the use of the website more comfortably for you. In addition, optionally selected settings of a previous visit to the website (for example, region, language, interests etc.) are stored with the use of cookies.

You may also object to the placement of cookies via your browser settings. However, if you deactivate or refuse cookies, you might not be able to fully use all of the functions of our website under certain circumstances. For additional information on your browser's cookie settings, please go to: www.allaboutcookies.org/ge/. If you have questions or comments on this topic, please contact us using the contact information provided in Section 9.

2.2. Google Analytics and Universal Analytics

If you have agreed to the use of cookies, this website also uses Google Analytics, the web analysis service of Google Inc., 1600 Amphitheatre Parkway, Mountain View, CA 94043, USA ("Google"), with the Google Universal Analytics enhancement.

Google Analytics uses cookies to record standard logging information as well as user behaviour on our website in aggregate form. The following information is collected by Google Analytics: browser, device type, device model, country, service provider, screen resolution (on mobile devices), length of visit to the website, language, operating system, pages visited on the website. Google will use this information specifically to analyse and evaluate the use of the website by users and to put together reports on website activities. Google might also pass on this information to third parties, provided that this is prescribed by law or third parties are processing this data by order of Google.

Our user analysis also uses Universal Analytics. With this, we can obtain information on the use of our offerings on different devices ("cross devices"). With cookie technology, we use a pseudonymised user ID that contains no personal data and also does not transmit such data to Google. You may object to data collection and storage at any time with effect for the future by deactivating the cross-device user analysis in your customer account. Additional information on Universal Analytics can be found here: https://support.google.com/analytics/answer/2838718?hl=de&ref_topic=6010376.

However, in the event that IP anonymisation is activated, on this website, your IP address will be shortened in advance by Google within member states of the European Union or in other states party to the Agreement on the European Economic Area. Only in exceptional cases will the entire IP address be passed on to a Google server in the USA and shortened there. IP anonymisation is active on this website. By order of the operator of this website, Google will use this information to analyse and evaluate your use of the website, to put together reports on website activities and to provide services through us related to website and Internet use.

If you do not want any website to record your activities via Google Analytics, you may download and install available browser plug-ins via the following link (<https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>).

Additional information on the terms and conditions of use and data protection can be found at www.google.com/analytics/terms/de.html or at www.google.de/intl/de/policies.

2.3. Google Network, Remarketing and DoubleClick

We also use Google Analytics to analyse and evaluate data from AdWords and the DoubleClick cookie for statistical purposes and to assist in advertisement placement and management on the web. If you visit a website and display or click on an advertisement placed via websites of Google Network, a DoubleClick cookie might be stored in your browser. The DoubleClick cookie identifier assigned to your browser is the same one that is used when visiting websites on which DoubleClick advertising programs are used. If your browser already has a DoubleClick cookie, an additional DoubleClick cookie should not be stored. This website also uses remarketing with Google Analytics for online advertising. This includes the use of cookies by third-party providers, including Google. Through the combined use of initial provider cookies (for example, Google Analytics cookies) and third-party cookies (for example, DoubleClick cookies), advertisements can be presented to you based on your previous visits to this website, and they can also be optimised, analysed and evaluated. With the use of remarketing, information on your surfing behaviour is collected in anonymised form for marketing purposes and stored on your computer by means of cookies (targeting/retargeting). By using an algorithm, we can then display product recommendations targeted to you as personalised advertising banners on other websites (publishers). If you do not want this, you may deactivate this feature via the advertisement preferences manager (<https://support.google.com/ads/answer/2662922?hl=de>).

3. HANDLING PERSONAL DATA WHEN USING SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

Our websites use social plug-ins (“plug-ins”) of various social networks provided that you have granted us your consent for this purpose:

3.1. Use of Facebook plug-ins (“Like” button)

The plug-ins of the social network Facebook, 1601 South California Avenue, Palo Alto, CA 94304, USA, are incorporated into our websites. You recognise the Facebook plug-ins on the Facebook logo (white “f” on the blue tile) or the terms “Like”, “I like” or the “Thumbs up” icon on our website. An overview of the Facebook plug-ins can be found here: <https://developers.facebook.com/docs/plugins>.

If you visit our websites, a direct connection between your browser and the Facebook server will be created via the plug-in. In this way, Facebook receives the information that you have visited our websites with your IP address. If you click on the Facebook “Like” button while you are logged in to your Facebook account, you can link the content of our websites to your Facebook profile. In this way, Facebook can attribute the visit to our websites to your user account. Please note that we do not obtain any knowledge of the content of the transmitted data or of its use by Facebook. Additional information about this can be found in Facebook’s Data Protection Declaration at www.facebook.com/policy.php.

If you do not want Facebook to be able to attribute visits to our websites to your Facebook user account, please log out of your Facebook user account before visiting our website.

3.2. Use of Snapchat

Plug-ins of the social service Snapchat are used on our mobile website. The plug-ins are indicated by a “Follow” button in the form of a white ghost on a yellow background.

If you visit our mobile website, which contains such a plug-in, your device creates a direct connection with the Snapchat servers. The content of this plug-in is transmitted by Snapchat directly to your device. With this integration, Snapchat receives the information that your device has visited the corresponding page of our mobile website, even if you do not have a profile or you are not logged in to Snapchat. This information (including your log data, such as the IP address) is transmitted by your device directly to a Snapchat server and stored there. If you are logged in to Snapchat, Snapchat can attribute the visit to our mobile website directly to your account. If you interact with the plug-ins, for example, if you activate the “Snapchat” button, the corresponding information will likewise be transmitted directly to a Snapchat server and stored there. The information is also published and shown to your contacts there.

The purpose and scope of data collection and the further processing and use of data by Snapchat as well as your rights and settings options associated with this for protecting your private sphere can be found in the data protection notices at <https://www.snap.com/DE/policies/>.

If you do not want Snapchat to attribute the data collected via our website directly to your Snapchat account, you must log out before your visit.

3.3. Use of Twitter

Plug-ins of the microblogging service Twitter, which is operated by Twitter Inc., 1355 Market St., Suite 900, San Francisco, CA 94103, USA (“Twitter”), are used on our website. The plug-ins are indicated by a Twitter logo, for example, in the form of a blue “twitter bird”. An overview of the Twitter plug-ins and their appearance can be found at: <https://dev.twitter.com/web/tweet-button>.

If you visit one of our websites that contain such a plug-in, your browser creates a direct connection with the Twitter servers. The content of the plug-in is transmitted by Twitter directly to your browser and integrated into the site. By way of this integration, Twitter receives the information that your browser has visited the corresponding page of our website even if you do not have a Twitter profile or you are not logged in to Twitter. This information (including your IP address) is transmitted by your browser directly to a Twitter server in the USA and stored there. If you are logged in to Twitter, Twitter can attribute the visit to our website directly to your Twitter account. If you interact with the plug-ins, for example, if you activate the “Twitter” button, the corresponding information will likewise be transmitted directly to a Twitter server and stored there. The information is also published in your Twitter account and shown to your contacts there.

The purpose and scope of data collection and the further processing and use of data by Twitter as well as your rights and settings options associated with this for protecting your private sphere can be found in the data protection notices of Twitter: <https://twitter.com/de/privacy>.

If you do not want Twitter to attribute the data collected via our website directly to your Twitter account, you must log out of Twitter before your visit to our website. You can also prevent the downloading of Twitter plug-ins with add-ons for your browser, for example, with the script blocker “NoScript” (<http://noscript.net/>).

3.4. YouTube videos

We have also incorporated YouTube videos into our websites. The videos are stored at www.youtube.com and can be played directly from our websites. These videos are incorporated in such a way that no personal data related to you as the user is sent to YouTube if you do not play the videos.

If you do play the videos, YouTube cookies will be stored on your computer and data will be sent to Google, Inc., 1600 Amphitheatre Parkway, Mountain View, CA 94043, USA, as the YouTube operator. When playing videos stored with YouTube, the following personal data is sent to Google, Inc.: the IP address and cookie ID, the specific address of the page visited on our websites, language setting of the browser, system date and time of access and your browser’s identifier. The data is transmitted regardless of whether you are registered with or logged in to Google. If you are logged in, this data will be attributed directly to your account.

If you do not want this attribution to your profile, you must log out before activating the button. YouTube or Google, Inc., stores this data as use profiles and uses this data for the purposes of advertising, market research and/or designing its websites based on demand. Such use is meant in particular (not only for logged-in users) to provide advertising based on demand and to inform other users of your activities on our website. You have a right to oppose the creation of these user profiles, and to exercise this right, you must address yourself to Google Inc. as the operator of YouTube. Additional information on the purpose and scope of data collection and processing by Google, Inc., can be found at www.google.at/intl/policies/privacy/. We do not process the personal data collected when the YouTube video is accessed.

3.5. Use of Instagram

On our websites, we place plug-ins of the social network Instagram, which is operated by Instagram LLC, 1601 Willow Road, Menlo Park, CA 94025, USA. The plug-ins are indicated by an Instagram logo, for example, in the form of an Instagram camera. An overview of the Instagram plug-ins and their appearance can be found here: <https://blog.instagram.com/post/36222022872/introducing-instagram-badges>.

If you visit our website, your browser creates a direct connection with the Instagram servers. The content of the plug-in is transmitted by Instagram directly to your browser and integrated into the website. By way of this integration, Instagram receives the information that your browser has visited the corresponding page of our website even if you do not have an Instagram profile or you are not logged in. This information (including your IP address) is transmitted by your browser directly to an Instagram server in the USA and stored there.

If you are logged in to Instagram, Instagram can attribute the visit to our website directly to your Instagram account. If you interact with the plug-in, for example, if you activate the “Instagram” button, this information will also be transmitted directly to an Instagram server and stored there. The information is also published in your Instagram account and shown to your contacts there.

The purpose and scope of data collection and the further processing and use of data by Instagram as well as your rights and settings options associated with this for protecting your private sphere can be found in the data protection notices of Instagram: <https://help.instagram.com/155833707900388>.

3.6. Pinterest

On our websites, we place plug-ins of the social network Pinterest.com, a service of Pinterest, Inc., 808 Brannan Street, San Francisco, CA 94103, USA. The plug-ins are indicated with a Pinterest logo, for example, as a “P” in the form of an ampersand and alternatively with the “Save” add-on in white lettering on a red emblem or rectangle. An overview of the Pinterest plug-ins can be found here: <https://developers.pinterest.com/docs/widgets/save?>. [sic]

With the integration of the plug-in on our page, the following personal data is sent to Pinterest: IP address and session ID, operating system used and statistical information as well as your browser’s identifier. The data is transmitted regardless of whether you have a user account with Pinterest, to which you are logged in.

If you are logged in, this data will be attributed directly to your account. If you do not want this attribution to your profile, you must log out before activating the button. Cookies for the collection and control of usage-based online advertising can be deactivated at www.youronlinechoices.com.

Additional information on the purpose and scope of data collection and the processing of personal data by Pinterest can be found at <https://about.pinterest.com/de/privacy-policy>. We will not process your personal data.

4. HANDLING PERSONAL DATA DURING PROACTIVE USE BY THE USER

Based on your granted consent to receive the newsletter and after confirmation of the double opt-in e-mail by clicking on the button contained therein, your first and last name, your e-mail address and your IP address and optionally your date of birth, your gender, the desired country and the desired language will be processed by us and MARES S.p.A., Salita Bonsen 4, I-16035 Rapallo (GE), Italy, and by the company (companies) of the HEAD Group responsible for your region, provided that such a company exists for your region (all details in this regard can be found here), for the purposes of sending (i) marketing and product information related to goods and services from the HEAD Group product range, (ii) personalised promotional information and news matching your interest categories and based on your website use (for example, frequent viewing of products within your selected interest categories and geolocalisation), (iii) satisfaction surveys regarding services and advice of the HEAD Group and demand analyses, (iv) contests, coupons, discount campaigns and prize games, (v) electronic greeting cards via e-mail, and will be transmitted for these purposes to the company of the HEAD Group responsible for your region.

Personalised promotional material and news is sent based on your IP address and your usage behaviour on the website. Based on your IP address and with the aid of our “Browser Region Managers”, we can locate the region where you are located when you are using the website and send you regional offers to the extent to which you have consented. We do not determine your exact location while doing this. In the process, we also analyse the frequency of clicks solely for your selected areas of interest “ski, snowboard, sportswear, tennis, padel, squash, racquetball, swimming” and, for example, in the case of frequent use of the “Snowboard” section, send you information from this area of interest via e-mail based on the declaration of consent described above. For this reason, we use the cookie with the designation “VIEWED_PRODUCT_IDS”. The analysis is carried out based on the following assessment methods and sequence of preferences: The data regarding your usage behaviour on the website is compared anonymously with the empirical values for similar data sets in our database. Based on this, we calculate the probabilities of potential future contacts and purchases with us. We can therefore also make corresponding offers and send information that, based on our experience, was of interest to customers with similar behaviour. In the process, we can also create anonymised and pseudonymised user profiles.

We also store your IP address and the date of registration upon subscribing to the newsletter. This is only saved to serve as proof in the event that a third party misuses an e-mail address and subscribes to receive the newsletter without the knowledge of the rightful owner. Personal data collected when subscribing to the newsletter is not forwarded to third parties for marketing purposes.

You may revoke your consent to receive newsletters at any time with effect for the future without specifying the reasons (for example, via a link at the end of every newsletter or via e-mail at privacy@head.com).

If you forward our newsletter to third parties, you must comply with legal provisions and obtain the consent of the recipient in advance. If a third party lodges claims against us due to the forwarding of a newsletter by you, you shall indemnify and hold us harmless against all claims associated therewith, including penalties and costs of legal defence.

At the time of subscription, only your personal data recorded with Facebook or entered voluntarily by you, such as your e-mail address and name in all cases, are required in the form, and your city, address, age etc. are optional. We use the personal data provided exclusively to send to you via e-mail our newsletter specifically described in the lead, provided that you have explicitly provided consent. You may revoke your consent to receive the newsletter at any time with effect for the future without specifying the reasons.

4.8. Prize games and contests

If your personal data is forwarded outside of the EU/EEA, we guarantee an adequate measure of security by forwarding them to countries that have an appropriate level of protection based on confirmation by the European Commission, or by concluding an appropriately formulated contract between us and the legal person outside of the EU/EEA who receives the data. You may receive a copy of the suitable guarantees by sending an e-mail to us at privacy@head.com.

7. DATA SECURITY

We take appropriate technical and organisational security measures to protect your personal data from unintentional or unauthorised deletion or modification, and from loss, theft and unauthorised viewing, forwarding, reproduction, use, alteration or access. We will also store your data only as long as we are obligated by law to store them and as long as claims can be asserted against us.

9. YOUR RIGHTS

You have the right to receive information in a clear, transparent and intelligible manner regarding how we process personal data and regarding your rights as a data subject (Art. 13 et seqq. GDPR):
